The Celebration of Worship

All Saints Weekend

Before worship, talk to God. During worship, let God talk to you.

After worship, talk to your fellow worshiper.

Here at Faith Community Lutheran...We almost always follow the traditional order of worship familiar to most Lutherans, but usually our services are a "blend" of old and new music. As Lutherans, we view ourselves as a church of "Word & Sacrament." Therefore, "God's Word" is held in high esteem as we follow lessons and sermon with our Bibles open. FCLC is among a growing number of Lutheran Churches committed to celebrating the Sacrament of Holy Communion every week, including the baptized of all ages. As we begin our worship, all are invited to "examine themselves" (1 Cor.11:28) during the Confession as we prepare to receive the Word and Holy Communion. Children of all ages may receive the sacrament! However, if parents prefer, small children may receive a grape given with the words, "Welcome to the Lord's Table."

Confirmation Question of the Week:
How would you describe a "saint?"

All Saints
Weekend
November 7, 2010

Today is All Saints' Sunday, a day we as Christians give thanks for all the good people God has placed in our lives, especially those who are already with God in heaven. It is also a day we give thanks for the presence of the Holy Spirit in our lives.

It is not because people are special in and of themselves that we call them saints, but it is because they are ordinary, everyday people who allow the Holy Spirit to work through them, doing the work of the Lord.

I am reminded of two of the saints in my life, Louis and Arlene Tveter, my grandparents, who both are now with our Lord in heaven. They had a small dairy farm outside of Decorah, Iowa they worked their entire lives. By economic standards of their day, they were by no means "rich", however they were rich with love for their family and especially for the Lord.

Louis was a man of few words most of the time, but his actions, love for the Lord, and his example is what made him a saint. Whether it was being the caretaker of their country church -- Madison Lutheran, preparing the sanctuary for worship the Saturday night before Sunday services, mowing the church grounds and cemetery, or teaching and encouraging me to sing out during worship, he probably did not know it at the time, but he was a saint.

Arlene was one of the most selfless people I have ever known. She just simply gave of her time, talent, and treasure to all she knew for the glory of the Lord. She was the person that always put others' needs before her own in everything that she did. When a neighbor was in need of a meal, she would prepare it. When I needed love, encouragement, and prayer, she gave it. She was the epitome of verses 30 & 31 of our gospel lesson for today (Luke 6:30-31), ³⁰Give to everyone who asks you, and if anyone takes what belongs to you, do not demand it back. ³¹Do to others as you would have them do to you. As humble as she was, little did she know that she was the face of Christ to all around her. She was a saint.

Do you consider yourself a saint? My guess is probably not. You are probably considered a saint by someone close to you, or someone you hardly know. Yes, it's true. As forgiven sinners, we are all saints, whether we realize it or not. We can be saints to our kids, our friends, our family, our co-workers, or strangers.

Martin Luther writes, "The Holy Scriptures call Christians saints and the people of God. To forget that we are saints is to forget Christ and to forget our baptism."

Remember, what you do and say today, the example you set, to further the kingdom of God, will have a lasting impression on those that will come after you. Allow the Holy Spirit to fill you up, and be a witness for Christ. Be the face of Christ. God will be watching and smiling upon you... and you may never know who else will be blessed by God and his unending grace because of you. Kirk Olson

Welcome, Guests!

We believe the Lord led you here. Please stop by our Welcome Center and sign our electronic guest book before you leave.

We welcome little children as we worship! In respect for others, you may bring your child(ren) to our well-equipped, staffed nursery during the service. Our speaker system provides excellent audio of the service in the Narthex and nursery. —Thank you.
